Martin, M. (2000). A grain of salt: A contemplative study of natural form in nursing, developed in collaboration with people in life-threatening and life-challenging situations to reveal untold stories of healing. Ph.D. thesis, , .